

ALEXA NATHALIA URIBE VILLEGAS

Nationality: Mexican

Education

Alexa Nathalia Uribe Villegas graduated in 2024 with a bachelor's degree in economics from El Colegio de México in Mexico City. She completed the eighth semester of her bachelor's degree at Hitotsubashi University in Tokyo, Japan.

Center for Latin American Monetary Studies

She is currently an analyst in the Economic Research Department of the Center for Latin American Monetary Studies (CEMLA)

Chamber of Deputies

2025, Parliamentary Advisor, assisted with macroeconomic indicators and economic issues.

Banco de México

2024, Social Service collaborated on economic issues and research in the Monetary Research Department.

Edwing Van Gameren

2023, Research Assistant, created a panel database for migration and health analysis.

Raymundo Campos Vázquez

2023, Research Assistant, developed a database on wages and employment levels in Latin American and OECD countries.

Economic Almanac Journal

2022-2023, Review Director, reviewed the economic-theoretical content of articles for approval for publication.

IMEF Universitario

2020, Director of Promotion and Development, Organized university events to promote debates on relevant economic issues.

AIESEC

2019, Finance and Legal Affairs Assistant, Update the executive board budget and develop strategies to achieve the division's objectives.

Awards and Distinctions

She was recognized as the Best Student at El Colegio de México, Reforma Newspaper, 2023.

Invited by the Banco de México as one of the best economics students in Mexico City to attend a meeting at the Banco de México with Governor Victoria Rodríguez and US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen.